CHINESE COMMUNISTS UNITED WITH RUSSIA

Mao Tse-Tung's Statement On "World Revolution" BITTER ATTACK ON USA

San Francisco, November 7.

The Chinese Communist Radio today broadcast a statement of unity with Soviet Russia for world revolution. It bitterly attacked "American imperialism."

The broadcast led off with congratulations from the Chairman, Mao Tse-tung and the Commander-in-Chief, Chu Teh, to Premier Stalin on the 31st anniversary of the Soviet revolution.

The message said: "We hail the constant strengthening of the USSR, bulwark of world peace and democracy, and close co-operation between the peoples of China and the Soviet Union."

Greek Cabinet To Resign

Athens, November 5.
The Greek Prime Minister, M. Trikoupi, is expected to resign today. He is expected to be replaced by a coalition cabinet led by King Paul on Monday.

The Foreign Minister, M. Constantinos Tsaldaris, is returning to Athens tomorrow from Paris, where he has been attending the United Nations General Assembly meetings.—Reuter.

Important Speech By Chiang

Nanking, November 7.
President Chiang Kai-shek will make an important policy speech tomorrow morning, announcing the Government's determination to continue against the Communists to the bitter end.

The President's reiteration of the Government's determination to continue against the Communists to the bitter end is expected to be backed up with drastic changes in the country's internal and external policy and relaxation of the Generalissimo's personal control of national affairs.

A well-informed source said that President Chiang's speech, which will be delivered to the Kuomintang's regular weekly memorial meeting tomorrow, will contain an appeal for popular support to check Communist expansion, with an expression of confidence of ultimate victory.

The policy changes now being planned are understood to be:—
(1) Relaxation of President Chiang's personal control of national affairs giving complete power to area commanders to conduct military operations without his interference and enabling the existence of a truly responsible cabinet.

(2) A stiffened Government attitude towards bureaucratic capitalists and "favoured families."

(3) Hardened foreign policy towards Soviet Russia and clear-cut alignment with the West.—United Press.

Big Three Go Into A Huddle

Foreigners in China scanned Mao's broadcast with more than a little personal concern. Especially disturbing to foreigners was that part which pledged elimination of "American imperialism."

Many in Shanghai viewed it as a sort of forecast of things to come for them in China. They connected the speech with advice from their Consuls to leave the country.

Businessmen's Views

With Communist military victory seemingly nearer than ever, every foreign national wondered whether Mao's views represented those of all Chinese Communists, and business and professional men are particularly worried about how imperialism they would look to the Red commander.

A large section of foreign business in China has held to the belief that it could continue under the Reds, expecting a relatively moderate regime, probably in the form of some Red-dominated coalition.

But this view is scarcely supported by Mao's assertion that the middle of the road between Communism and capitalism is "utter hypocrisy and thorough bankruptcy."

Anti-Foreign?

Old China hands, particularly among the British, doubt that the Reds, though they might try to squeeze the present foreigners out of China, would throw open the gates to the Soviets and certainly not with any special concessions.

Chinese nationalism is too strong for that, especially in view of the fact that extra-territoriality was only recently surrendered by Britain, America and France.

This was the view expressed: "They may not like us but they won't like the Soviets any better; they just don't want any foreigners."—Associated Press.

OMINOUS RICE RIOTS BEGIN IN SHANGHAI

Shanghai, November 7.

More than a dozen attempts to storm rice shops have been made by a hungry populace in the last 24 hours.

The price of the cereal sky-rocketed from GY 200 to GY 500 per picul, compared with the August 19 ceiling of GY 23.

Even at the new prohibitive level, rice was virtually unobtainable. In one of the disturbances, uniformed men held up a cartload of rice in the Zikawei suburb.

In two other cases, large crowds mobbed rice shops, and white-helmeted police squads were despatched to crush the violence.

The series of rice riots are regarded here as ominous, and the end is nowhere in sight.

Miraculous Escape In Car Crash

Four Chinese had a miraculous escape from death in the New Territories yesterday.

Their car, No. 2177, when rounding a bend near the 15th milestone on Castle Peak Road, plunged over and fell 200 feet.

The occupants escaped with slight injuries but the car was badly damaged.

Three Europeans and a Chinese were taken to Kowloon Hospital following a motor accident at the six and a half mile mark in Sha Tin Valley yesterday.

Two of the Europeans are J. Russell, of 160 Caine Road, and Mrs. G. E. Ellis, of Fanling. The name of the third European is unknown. The driver was Chan Wo.

The car, being driven from Kowloon to the Territories, plunged 40 feet over the embankment.

Inspector Downman, in charge of Sha Tin Police Station, took the four to hospital. Mrs. Ellis is still in hospital but the others were discharged after treatment.

NORTH CHINA SWEEP BY PEACE RUMOURS

Tientsin, November 7.

The attention of the whole of North China is at present focussed on the movements of leading personalities, who are favouring a negotiated peace with the Chinese Communists.

Mr. Shao Li-tze, former Ambassador to Soviet Russia, flew today to Lanchow, the provincial capital of Kansu, where, it is surmised, he might contact the Communists.

Mr. Shao, who was Secretary General of the now defunct People's Political Council, is generally regarded as a member of the Kuomintang clique which can work together with the Communists.

He is known to be an advocate of conciliation and the composition of differences between the Nationalists and the Communists. Meanwhile, General Chang Chih-chung, the supreme executive officer in North West China, and one of the few high Nationalist officials, enjoying the confidence of the Chinese Communists, is reported by the Catholic Yi Shih Pao to be busily working in Nanking for peace.

The paper said that General Chang has seen President Chiang Kai-shek twice and has visited the American and Soviet Ambassadors.

Chinese Air Force units in Peiping appear to be transferring to Shanghai and Nanking. Families of Air Force Officers are packing for departure South, and several said their menfolk may follow soon.

In Tientsin, Central Government organisations are planning evacuation. The Mayor has advised the population to accumulate "three months' supplies for the coming winter. This promptly affected the prices of flour and grain, which rose 30 per cent in two hours.—Reuter and Associated Press.

Reds Attack
Meanwhile high-spirited Communist troops were reported today to have punched two important gaps in the Government's elaborate defence system South of the Yellow River.

A Communist army of more than 500,000 battle-scarred veterans under General Chen Yi, Liu Po-cheng and Chen Keng began closing in for a showdown in the Central China battle. Striking simultaneously at key points along a 200-mile-wide front, the Communists' people's army, in South Western Honan, West of the Peiping-Hankow railway and overwhelmed the Nationalist garrison at Fengtai, 50 miles South West of Peking, in Northern Anhwei. Chinese press reports said.

Nanyang, the Westernmost link in the chain of Government defences stretching from Huachow to the East, was evacuated by Nationalist forces on Saturday after a brief encounter with the Red forces under General Chen Keng.

The evacuation was described as "a strategic withdrawal" ordered by General Pei Chung-hsi, overall Commander of Government operations in Central China, when he flew over the fighting lines on Thursday.

Disaster Ahead
Today they exceed the capacity of the average person's salary, provoking an economic, social and financial disaster of a magnitude as yet unimagined.

When the Government relaxed its grip on the price of bread, the cost was GY0.33. This morning, bakers demanded for a pound loaf.

A packet of Lucky Strike cigarettes, which yesterday cost GY7.00, today costs GY18.00. In the midst of this unprecedented situation, with the rumble of the civil war approaching the broad reaches of the Yangtze, Shanghai's populace is faced with the desperate problem of bare survival on yesterday's salary and tomorrow's prices.—Reuter.

Fengtai's Fall
Fengtai is believed to have fallen last night after heavy assaults by Communist units operating in Northern Anhwei. Radio contact with the city has been cut since 4:00 p.m. yesterday.

Government troops, however, are claimed to be firmly holding their positions in the face of fierce attacks at Tengcheng, Lincheng and Changwu, all situated in South Shantung, respectively 35 miles North, 60 miles North and 100 miles North West of Huachow.

Meanwhile there is more news of the evacuation of Peiping and Tientsin.

Governor To See MacArthur

Tokyo, November 7.

The danger to Allied interests in the light of the deteriorating civil war situation is expected to be the topic of discussion between General Douglas MacArthur and Sir Alexander Grantham, Governor of Hong Kong.

The head of the Crown Colony, accompanied by Lady Grantham, arrived at Haneda airport this afternoon for a four-day stay at the headquarters of the United Kingdom Liaison Mission.

The spokesman for the mission said Sir Alexander was coming to Tokyo officially "to pay his respects to General MacArthur."

The meeting between Sir Alexander and General MacArthur is expected to take place on Monday.

While in Tokyo, Sir Alexander will also hold conversations with Lieutenant-General H. C. H. Robertson, Commander-in-Chief of the British occupation troops in Japan.—United Press.

Railway Back To Normal

Normal through train services between Kowloon and Canton were resumed yesterday, following completion of repairs to the line near Canton on Saturday night.

As a result of the derailment and ambush of the express by bandits on Thursday night at a point 14 miles South of Canton, the Chinese railway authorities have imposed a curfew along the line between Canton and Shum-chun.

A message from Canton yesterday said that any unauthorised person found within 500 yards of the railway line between hours of 8 p.m. and 6 a.m. will be shot on sight.

Another message said that the Chinese railway authorities have sent representatives to Hong Kong to discuss precautionary measures for preventing a repetition of last Thursday's incident.

This could not be confirmed in the Colony last night.

Four of the men arrested by the troops after a two-hour skirmish near the scene of the derailment on Thursday have claimed that they belonged to a unit of the Pacification Corps stationed in the area.

They said that they were mistaken for bandits by the reinforcements from Canton and forced to surrender their arms. The matter is being investigated.

Not Much Hope In Indonesia

Batavia, November 6.

Dr. D. U. Stikker, the Dutch Foreign Minister, announced today that he would return to Jogjakarta, the Indonesian Republic capital, tomorrow for further talks with the Republican Government on an Indonesian settlement.

Dr. Stikker made the announcement at Batavia, Holland, when he returned from a two-day "peace mission" in Jogjakarta, during which he conferred with Dr. Mohammed Hatta, the Republican Prime Minister.

Usually reliable sources here said Dr. Stikker's new meeting with Republican leaders would be the final one on which he would base his recommendations to the Netherlands Government on whether to resume the deadlocked political negotiations with the Republic.

Antara, the Republican news agency, reported today that there was "little hope" of the resumption of the negotiations.—Reuter.

Big Four Meeting The Only Hope

Paris, November 7.

The "neutral" members of the United Nations Security Council believe that a meeting of the Big Four Chiefs of State may be necessary to settle the Berlin crisis.

The six nations still hope that a solution can be reached through United Nations channels but there is a growing belief that only a meeting of President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin, Generalissimo Acheson, and the French Premier, Henri Queuille, can finally break the deadlock.

Such a meeting could also deal with other critical problems such as atomic energy and the future of Germany.

One United Nations attempt to find a compromise solution has been blocked by the Soviets and it is generally believed that a second failure might prove fatal to the world organization.

United Nations but private and publicly crucial conferences are due next week by various interested parties. Representatives of the Western Big Three are expected to confer on possible "next moves" in the deadlocked dispute and the neutrals are also expected to discuss possible new approaches.

The expressed desire of President Truman to find a basis for further talks with the Russians is expected to produce a concerted attempt to solve the Berlin problem, although no drastic action by either side is anticipated.

The neutral hopes for a solution were based on the belief that the Big Four would break and the Big Three would follow suit. But the Big Four, without Stalin, has failed to break the deadlock.

Critical Report On China Aid?

Washington, November 7.

The joint Congressional "watch dog" committee may be critical of the aid extended to China in its report on America's foreign recovery operations to date.

Chairman Styles Bridges told the United Press that the committee is preparing its first report to the Congress.

The New Hampshire Republican said it will have an exhaustive objective and one that will give general approval to the ECA programme.

He said the committee will study the China programme to find out whether any lack of recovery aid had contributed to the China crisis. China was earmarked for $400,000,000 in aid of which $275,000,000 was for recovery.

The committee is not concerned with the remainder which is for military supplies and equipment. He said: "The committee report may reflect the feeling that China should have been better managed."

It was indicated that the committee, which will be under Democratic control after January 3, will go ahead with plans for a first-hand survey of the China situation.

Mrs. William E. Smith will report directly to the committee and what she finds out may be the basis of the committee's report.

The State Department declined to comment today on the Shanghai reports that Mr. George Marshall now supports all-out quick United States aid to China to save it from Communist armies.

Notwithstanding today's report, the State Department has been quick to deny that it has any intention of withdrawing its support for the Nationalist Government in China.

REMEMBRANCE DAY CEREMONY

The Colony Pays Solemn Tribute

Hong Kong, in common with the rest of the British Commonwealth, yesterday paid solemn tribute to the memory of those who died during the 1914-1918 and 1939-1945 hostilities. Led by H.E. the Deputy Governor, the Hon. Mr. D. M. MacDougall, members of the Executive and Legislative Councils, diplomatic corps, and fighting services, and leaders of the Anglican and Catholic churches, attended the solemn and impressive service at the Cenotaph at 10.30 a.m.

Immediately following this ceremony, the official party went to the Chinese War Memorial at the Public Gardens where His Excellency laid a wreath on behalf of the people of Hong Kong.

In Kowloon, the congregation of Christ Church, Kowloon Tong, was present in full force at the service dedicating a bronze tablet to the memory of the eight members who were killed in the last war.

The President, Vice-President, members of the committee, members and friends, totalling about 100, of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club were present at the wreath-laying ceremony on the balcony of the club-house at 12.30 p.m., when Mrs. McKelvie laid a wreath of poppies at the foot of the plaque erected some months ago.

Arrived to take part in the ceremonies held in memory of those who died in the last two World Wars, thousands lined the sides of Statue Square long before the arrival of H.E. the Deputy Governor, the Hon. D. M. MacDougall, at 10.50 a.m.

The Silence

After the National Anthem had been played by the Royal Artillery Band, short services were held by the Anglican and Free Churches, followed at 11 a.m., by a two-minute silence. The Last Post and Reveille were then sounded.

Following a short service by the Roman Catholic Church, wreaths were laid at the foot of the Cenotaph in the following order: British Legion, Royal Air Force Association, Ex-Gunners' Roll, Royal Marines' Association, H.E. the Deputy Governor, Commander-in-Chief Air Officer, Commander, Senior Unofficial Members of Executive Council, Commandant, HKVDC, Co. HKRNVR, Commissioner of Police and Merchant Navy, Imperial War Graves Commission, St. John's Ambulance Brigade, Corps of Air Raid Wardens, Sir Man-kam Lo, CBE, and D. S. N. Chau Hor, I.C.O. Alameda, K.C., Mr. J. H. Rutton, CBE, Canadian and Australian Government Trade Commissioners, The Special Commissioner for Kwantung and Kwantung, Consuls General for United States of America, and the Netherlands, Consuls for France, Consuls General for Norway, Portugal, Belgium and the Consuls for the Philippines, Societies of St. George, St. Andrew, St. Patrick and St. David, Boys Scouts and Girl Guides.

Chinese Memorial

The official party, led by His Excellency, then proceeded to the Chinese War Memorial at the Public Gardens.

Punctually at 11.30 a.m. Mr. MacDougall took his lead in laying a wreath at the foot of the memorial.

This was followed by H.E. the G.O.C. Major General F.R.J. Matthews, Commodore Robertson, representing Admiral Madden, The Air Commodore, the Hon. Secretary for Chinese Affairs, Mr. R.R. Todd, Chinese Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, Mr. T.W. Kwok, the Hon. T.N. Chan, Hon. S.N. Chao, Sir Man-kam Lo, Mr. M.W. Lo, Sir Shou-son Chow, Commissioner of Police, Mr. MacKintosh, Gilman and Company, Mr. A. el Arculli, Commissioner of St. John's Ambulance Brigade, Committee of the Po Leung Kuei, Chinese Chamber of Commerce, Chinese Engineers' Institute, Mr. T.O. Tso, Chairman and Directors of Tung Wah Hospital, Hong Kong Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve and the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps.

Others present at the ceremony included Dr. C.H. Thomas, Director of Medical Services, Mr. Thomas W.N. Tsin, Naval and Military officers and representatives of various Chinese organisations.

Service At St. John's

After the ceremony, His Excellency attended a service at St. John's Cathedral.

Various notables were among the large congregation. The G.O.C. Major General Matthews, read the lesson and a sermon for the occasion was delivered by very Rev. Dean A. P. Rose.

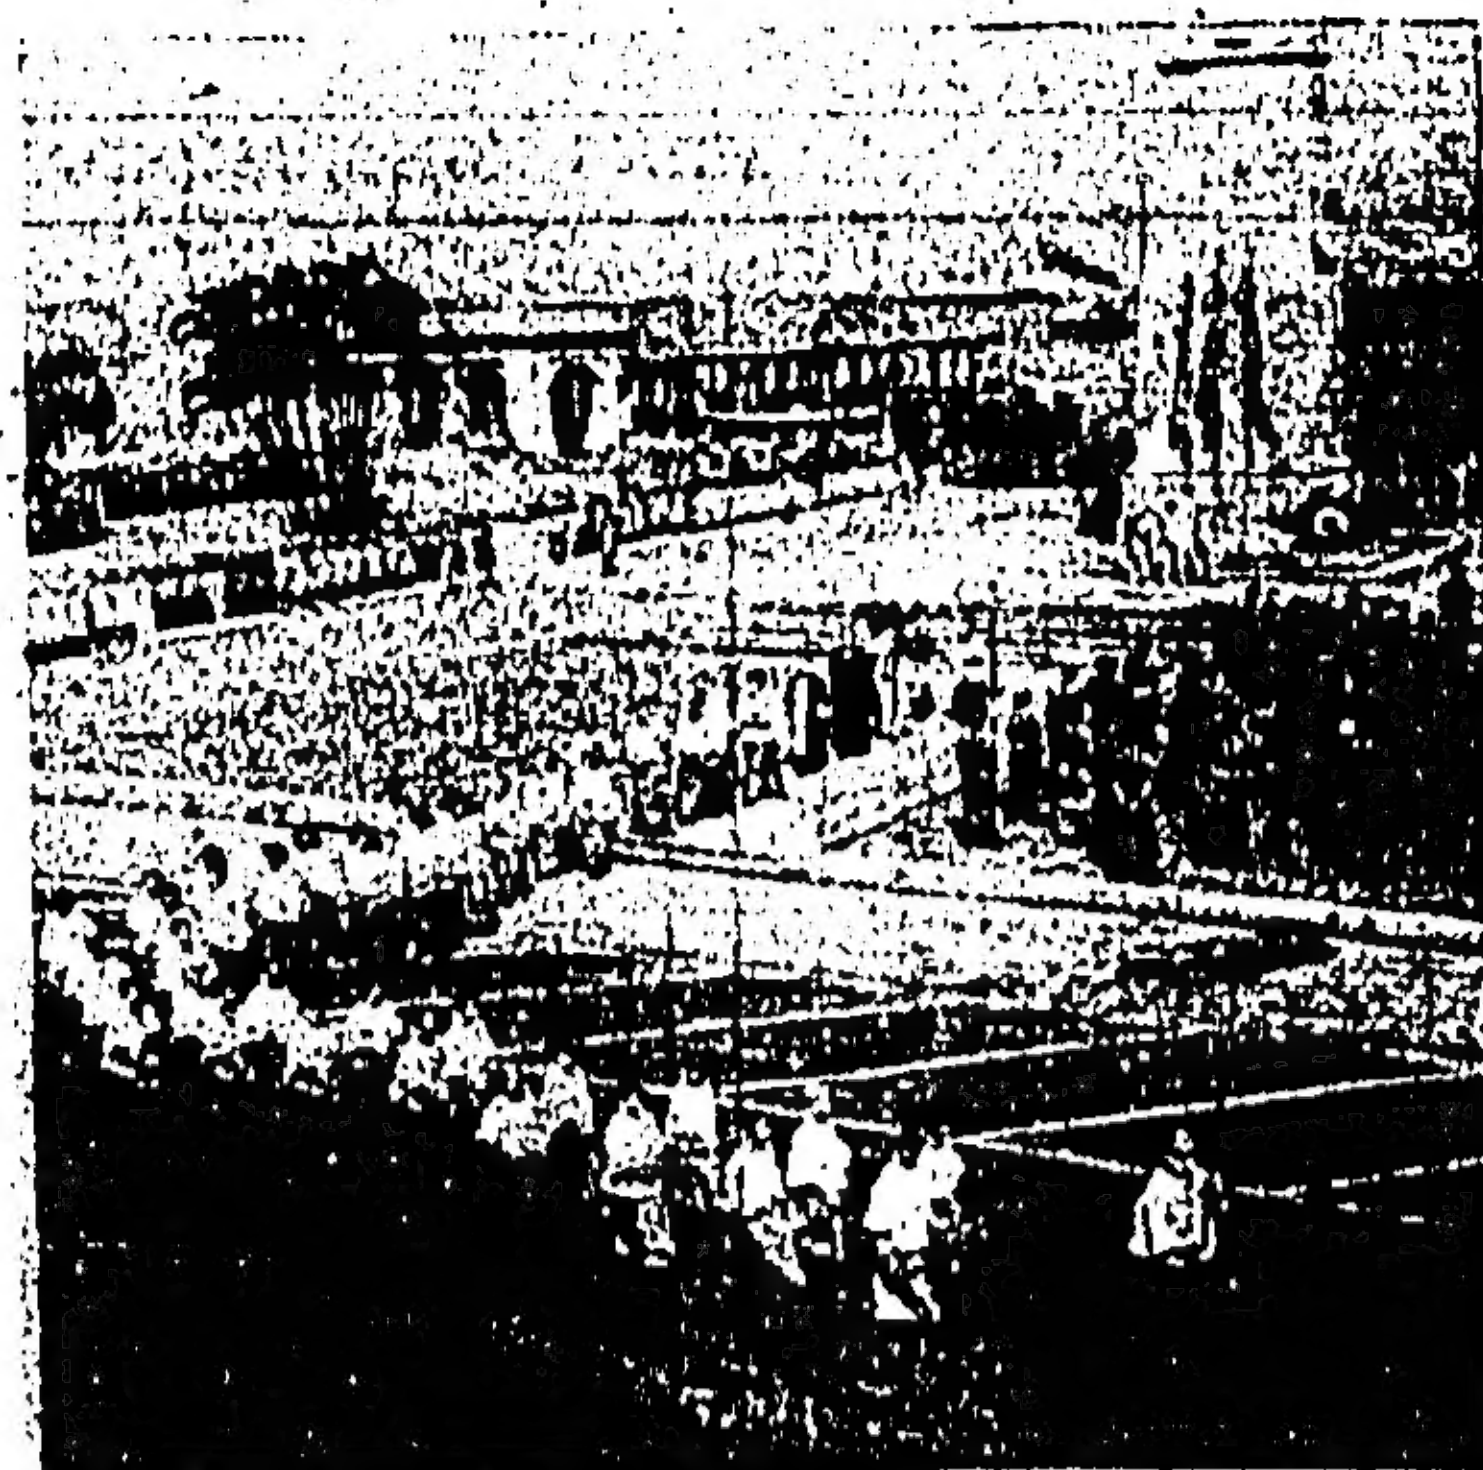

A memorial service was held at 11 a.m. at Stanley Prison Officers' Club.

The Rev. Canon Martin conducted the service while Captain J. Norman, Superintendent of Prisons, read the lesson.

After the service, a procession headed by Commander Harrison, RN, made its way to the cemetery where wreaths were laid on the grave of the Unknown Warrior, and also the officers of the Prison who lost their lives in the Battle of Hong Kong.

At the cemetery the "Last Post" was sounded followed by the "Reveille" sounded by a bugler from the Buffs.

Among the many wreaths were

The choir leaving Statue Square after yesterday's Remembrance Day ceremony at the Cenotaph. ("China Mail" Photo).

These from Commander Harrison, RN, Major Burdett, Captain Norman and Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps.

In Kowloon

There were full attendances at all the Anglican churches in Kowloon yesterday when special Remembrance services were held.

In a simple, impressive, and solemn service in Christ Church, Kowloon Tong, the Reverend C. Percy Smith dedicated a memorial to the eight members of the Church who were killed during the 1914-1945 hostilities.

The bronze tablet bearing the names of Fred Archer, Maurice Barton, Robert Ashton, Hill, Thomas Knox, William Henry Peters, Alan Potter, Albert George Frith Prew, and Edward Young, was unveiled by Mr. A.E.P. Guest in the presence of the large congregation, including friends and relatives of the dead.

Special hymns chosen for this service were "Jesus lives, thy terrors now O death no more appal us," "O God our help in ages past," "When I survey the wondrous Cross," "O God of earth and all that's in it," and "He, who would valiant be 'gainst all disaster."

The service at St. Andrew's Church was preceded by a two-minute silence, the National Anthem, and the Last Post.

Taking as his text, "Looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith," the Rev. J.H. Ogilvie, M.A., CBE, spoke on the significance of the day, and the sacrifice of those who lost their lives in the two World Wars.

At the conclusion of the service, at which the hymns "O God, our help in ages past," "O God of Bethel," "O valiant hearts," and "For all the saints who from their labours rest," were sung, a collection on behalf of Earl Haig's Fund was made.

KBGC Ceremony

About 100 members and friends of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, including Mr. J. MacKenzie (President), and Mr. A. E. Atkins (Vice-President), paid tribute to the memory of those members and their wives who died during the 1914-1945 war.

After Mrs. McKelvie had laid a wreath of poppies at the foot of the Memorial Plaque, the President proposed a silent toast to their fallen comrades.

Counter-Blockade Hits Red Zone

Berlin, November 6.

General Lucius D. Clay, Commander of U.S. forces in Germany, said today that the economy in the Soviet zone of Germany is at a "standstill" partly because of the Allied "counter-blockade."

"The American military governor told the press that the Soviet zone economy hit the bottom during summer and had shown no improvement for months."

General Clay said that in contrast to this, Western Germany production increased 40 per cent in the last five months.

He declared that the Soviet zone was "suffering from lack of steel, coal and spare parts."

General Clay said, "I do not know how much of the deterioration of the Soviet zone economy was due to the counter-blockade. But I do know that their economy is at a standstill."

In a conference, in which he spoke on every aspect of the German problem, General Clay expressed confidence that the Allied air lift will have no difficulty in supplying blockaded Berlin.

The tonnage total so far in November "convincingly" showed that if ever needed, proof that we will have no trouble in meeting the minimum requirements we have set.

RUSSIANS ESTABLISH THREE "ATOMGRADS"

New York, November 7.

Russia has established three "Atomgrads" deep in the heart of nearly inaccessible Asia to produce an atomic bomb, according to Dr. Albert Parry, a native Russian.

Parry said the atomic plants are surrounded with atom-proof shelters capable of housing Stalin's key ministries in the event of war.

"All three atom cities," he said, "are super-securely guarded as hundreds of thousands of men and women, Russians and non-Russians, labour within their confines in the gigantic task of making the Soviet atom bomb."

Dr. Parry is now a U.S. citizen and professor of Russian civilisation and languages at Colgate University. Writing in the December issue of Science Digest, he said he had learned the location and progress of the "Soviet atomgrads" from Russian officials who preferred not to return to their native land.

These "non-returners," Parry said, reported that Atomgrad 1 is in the Kuznetsk basin in South central Siberia, and is regarded as the "main Soviet" location in the making of the world's first atomic bomb.

It is here that buildings with several underground stories are awaiting Stalin and his staff should they have to leave Moscow and seek safety from foreign atomic weapons.

Out of Range?

Atomgrad 2, Parry reported, is located a few hundred miles East of Atomgrad 1. "Stalin thinks it is located out of range of our long distance bombers," he said.

This atomic plant, encircled by six belts of fortifications, according to the Russian professor, Special Ministry of State security troops guard the exits and no one can get into the city without a special order from the War Ministry.

The inhabitants contact with the outside world is extremely limited and strictly controlled.

The third plant, Dr. Parry continued, is located in the Turan region near Outer Mongolia, placed conveniently between but somewhat south of plants one and two.

Still A Secret

Parry said his sources told him that while the Russians have the theory of the bomb, the industrial process which is required to manufacture it is still a secret to the Soviets.

It is entirely possible, he added, that the Russians will eventually solve this last mystery.

However, even if they do not, they could still fight a war with other devastating weapons.

Parry said the brightest hope for ending the cold war was the "Russian people's dissatisfaction with their system. In the three years since the war, some 500,000 Russians have tried to escape from Stalin's clutches." —United Press.

Russians Nab Beautiful Girl

Vienna, November 6.

The Austrian Minister of Economic Planning, Dr. Peter Kraus, announced today that he had secured the release of a beautiful girl, Colonel Shulov, against the arrest of his beautiful secretary, Frau Margarete Oettinger, the Austrian Press Association reported.

Quoting official sources, it is head of the planning section of Kraus's Ministry, was arrested with him at the Soviet zone border as they were returning from a visit to the United States zone on the ground that their passports were forged.

Colonel Shulov was released after 15 minutes but his secretary was still held today.

Oscar Helmer, the Socialist Minister of the Interior, told the Austrian Parliament today that in the first 10 months of this year, Russians had arrested 268 Austrian citizens. Of these 100 were released fairly soon but the others were still being held.

BRITISH WOMAN'S WORLD FLIGHT

Bhemya Island, November 7.

Mrs. Richard Morrow-Tait said she will take off early on Monday, weather permitting, for Cold Bay, a military base near the end of the Alaskan Peninsula.

She expects to have an air force flying boat for an escort.

From Cold Bay, the flight plan calls for a stop to Anchorage, Alaska. The 24-year-old aviator arrived at this isolated island on Wednesday. Russians had arrested only five visitors of passport, a navigator, Michael Townsend, is with her on the Trans-Pacific flight from Japan. Associated Press.

Big Theft From Ship In Harbour

Thieves who looted the tanker X 4 as she lay off the Cosmopoliton. Dock, Shimshulpo, awaiting reconversion, are still at large.

No arrests have been made in connection with the larceny, which incurred the loss of rolls of canvas, new gear, propellers, piston rods, cables, ropes and fittings.

Police under Detective Sub-Inspector Spragg are investigating. According to a member of the crew the padlocks of two doors on the forecastle and aft of the tanker were tampered with some time in the morning of November 3. The locks remained intact but the bars were filed off.

The vessel is one of three former United States Navy tankers which operated in the Pacific war theatre during the last war.

They survived the war undamaged and were disposed of by the US Army War Surplus Tool to the prominent Philippine ship-owners, Madrigal and Company, for whom Grimbale and Company are the local agents.

Annual Fete At Christ Church

The annual fete to be held in the grounds of Christ Church, Waterloo Road, Kowloon Tong, on Saturday, November 13, promises to be both an escape from the humdrum tenor of everyday life and a solution of shopping problems.

To be opened by Mrs. F. S. Cassidy at 3 p.m., the fete holds out seven hours of such old favourite amusements as hoopla, nuttally, darts, skittles, lucky dip, pony rides, and, for local marksmen, rifle range and coconut shies.

The question of what to buy for friends or members of the family, from the baby through to toddlers, teen-agers, right up to adults (including, of course, daddies), will be solved by the very wide range of toys and goods on display and, of course, on sale.

Those seeking a momentary pause in the whirl of fun or shopping, there is the ever-ready standby of served in pleasant surroundings by charming helpers.

"LEFTIST" NEW DEAL WILL BE TRUMAN'S PROGRAMME

Washington, November 6.

President Truman will begin his new administration in January, pledged to a second "New Deal" considerably more "leftist" than the original programme with which President Roosevelt lifted the United States from the depression in the 30's.

His campaign promises to provide a blue-print of a four year plan of social and economic reforms favouring the workers and under-privileged.

Japanese Apples For HK

The fragrance of fresh apples permeated junks, sampans and motor launches clustering around the Norwegian motor-ship Aros which arrived here from Japan yesterday afternoon.

More than 2,500 cases of Japanese apples in three varieties, were unloaded from the mechanically-ventilated storage space of the Aros.

Among the 920 tons of general cargo destined for Hong Kong in the Norwegian vessel, for which Dowdell and Company are the local agents, were 30 tons of China wares, including porcelain. Passengers who disembarked here were Miss S. Hayes, Mr. E. W. Turnbull, Mrs. E. Edgar and Miss S. Edgar. Mr. R. V. Frodsham, the only American on board, is on his way to Manila where the Aros will call on the way to Sydney.

Mrs. Turnbull, Mr. C. G. Maygar, Mrs. E. R. Maygar, and Mr. L. Stark are on their way to Sydney.

When the Aros leaves for Australia on November 9 she will have Mr. R. Hazard, retiring Australian Trade Commissioner in Hong Kong, Mrs. L. Pritchard, Mrs. E. Y. Robertson, Mr. H. C. Patterson, and Mr. M. L. Zahner, who is on his way to Hong Kong from Manila.

"Y" To Hold Brains Trust

A "Brains Trust" will be held in the YMCA, Kowloon, at 8.30 p.m. on Wednesday, November 10, under the auspices of the Debating and Discussion Group.

Question Master for the evening will be the Honorable P. S. Cassidy and his team of "Brains" will be: Professor Ma Mun Fai, Commander Roy Beeching, Mr. Brooke Bonnell, Mr. Eric Hingworth and another invited to attend. Questions for the "Brains Trust" should be sent to the Secretary, Debating and Discussion Group, c/o YMCA, Kowloon.

Speakers at future meetings of the Debating and Discussion Group include Major General Matthews, GOC Hong Kong, Mr. Keith Hardy of Radio Hong Kong, Commissioner D. W. Macintosh of the Hong Kong Police, and Mr. J. W. Currie, who is in Hong Kong in connection with the formation of the Municipal Council.

POSED AS TOMMY FOR SIX MONTHS

Portsmouth, November 7. It is stated officially that the court inquiry which investigated the circumstances in which Sidney Frederick Nix, unemployed labourer and ex-soldier, spent six months frequenting Hillier Barracks, Portsmouth, posing as a soldier, found that security arrangements were inadequate.

A non-commissioned officer and a private with whom Nix frequented the barracks have been dealt with by the commanding officer of their unit. They were given punishment comparable with that meted out to Nix by the Portsmouth Magistrates who fined him £10.—Reuter.

Mr. Truman And Defence Chiefs Meet

Washington, November 6. President Truman reviewed the state of the nation's defences with his military advisers today in the first conference which he has had with them since his re-election to the Presidency.

He discussed "future naval policy" with the Secretary of the Navy, John Sullivan, and followed this up with review of the "general defence picture" with his Secretary of Defence, James Forrestal.

The fact that the conferences were followed by another with the Director of Budget, James Webb, was interpreted to mean that the President is preparing estimates of expenditure on national defence for the budget he will have to present to the new Congress.

The President leaves tomorrow for a fortnight's holiday at the naval base in Key West, Florida, to rest from his victorious election campaign.

He is expected to work during his holiday on the programme of New Deal legislation which he will present to Congress in January.—Reuter.

Legislators businessmen and social reformers are therefore going through the hundreds of speeches he made in his eight weeks election campaign to find out just what he promised.

From them emerges a programme of far-reaching reform, sweeping Government intervention and collective action to improve the lot of large sections of the population.

Here is the programme as outlined in the speeches.

1. Labour: Repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act restricting Trade Unions' powers.

The establishment of a legal minimum wage to be raised from 40 cents to 75 cents an hour.

The expansion and strengthening of the Department of Labour.

2. Prices: A price control bill to establish and then gradually relax controls on production approaches consumption.

Intervention to stabilize living costs.

3. Health and Insurance: National medical care in spite of "leftist lobby" opposition.

Health insurance.

New hospitals, clinics, health centres, and federal support of research.

Increase in benefits to the aged and infirm.

4. Civil Rights: Assurance of the negro right to vote and right to employment on the same terms as whites.

Preservation of the rights to trial and fair hearing even of alleged Communists on such issues as those raised by the anti-Communist House Un-American Activities Committee.

5. Business: Breaking of industrial monopolies.

Public distribution of the federal ownership of transmission lines from the great Government dams.

Schemes for irrigation and land reclamation.

Federal ownership of the vast under-sea oil reserves round the coast.

6. Agriculture: Ratification of the international wheat agreement.

Extension of the scheme guaranteeing prices to farmers.

7. Fiscal Policy: Reduction of tariffs by international agreements.

Mr. S. L. Lo, who died in hospital on Saturday night a few hours after being thrown by his own pony, Amigo. Mr. Lo whose funeral will take place today, suffered a fractured skull and other injuries. The corpse will leave the Hong Kong Funeral Parlour, Wanchoi Road, at 11.30 a.m. today. (Golden Studio Photo).

One Dead In Landslide

A Chinese woman was killed in a landslide at Holly Road, near Blue Pool Road, shortly after 4 p.m. yesterday.

Another Chinese, a man, was extricated alive.

Rescue operations were under the direction of Divisional Officer C. W. Brown of the Fire Brigade.

A section of the hillside overlooking ground where digging was in process caved in.

Only the threat of further falls of earth and rock prevented the rescue of the woman.

Inspector Hayward of Eastern Division, and Inspector Fleming of the Emergency Unit, participated in the rescue work.

Voices From Dead Speak To Reds

Tokyo, November 6. Japanese Communists will celebrate the 31st anniversary of the Russian revolution today when Lenin's voice will be played from gramophone records.

The programme says that the audience will hear "speeches by Lenin and Sen Katayama".

Katayama, now buried in Moscow's Red Square, was the only Japanese to die abroad and be honoured with a state funeral.

He went to Moscow in 1921 and was elected a member of the Executive Committee of the Comintern.

In 1919, Katayama organised the first group of Japanese Communists in the United States.

Japan's Number 1 Communist, Kyuchi Tokuda, and the Number 2 Red, Sanzo Nozaki, who spent over 10 years in exile in Moscow, will also address the meeting which will take place in the Meiji University auditorium.

The event is dedicated to the anniversary of the Soviet October Revolution by the old calendar.

Call To Red Forces To Be Always Ready

According to Moscow Radio, Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, Soviet Minister of the Armed Forces, tonight called on all Russian soldiers, sailors and airmen to be permanently ready to fight.

In an "Order of the Day" to the forces on the occasion of the anniversary of the October Revolution, he said: "Strengthen the might of the Soviet armed forces and ensure their permanent readiness to fight for the defence of their Socialist Motherland."

He stated: "All the members of the land, air and sea forces must work with resolution to perfect their military and political training, to promote Soviet military efficiency, raise their technical standards and strengthen discipline."—Reuter.

Democrats Split On Main Issues

Washington, November 6. Sharp differences within the Democratic party on civil rights and price control became increasingly apparent today even amid the jubilation of the election triumph.

Southern Congressmen have taken the harmony, but worried ominously against any attempt by the Northern wing of the party to ram-through legislation outlawing the poll tax, lynching and price control.

The Vice-President elect, Mr. Alben Barkley, went on record with the forecast that President Truman will ask the 81st Congress in January to fulfil the Democratic campaign platform by passing those measures without delay. But Senator Olin D. Johnston, outspoken foe of the Racial Rights Programme, said: "I am still against it."

The Senator, who was one of the first to congratulate President Truman when the latter returned to Washington, suggested Congress leave lynching and poll tax matters up to individual states.

Senator John C. Stennis said that he hopes the Administration will not press the civil rights issue.

It was recalled that House Speaker designate Sam Rayburn admitted in a recent campaign speech that he was dead against the Civil Rights Programme.

Since Rayburn is one man President Truman is counting on to smooth the way for his legislative programme, an intra-party row seemed to be brewing.

On prices, too, the new Democratic majority faced trouble within its ranks.

Mr. Barkley predicted that Congress would not act to curb high prices probably by giving the President stand-by price control power.

But Senator Elmer Thomas declared that he would oppose any legislation that might lower farm prices. Senator Thomas, who will be chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee when the new Congress meets, said that a price slump would put the nation "on the rocks."

He said that high prices present a high national income and the huge Government spending budgets all are interlocked.—United Press.

ATLANTIC PACT DISCUSSIONS

Paris, November 6. French experts are now working on a draft formula for a forthcoming exchange of views on the proposed Atlantic pact, according to well-informed sources.

The experts would probably choose a method based equally on the Brussels Pact and the Rio Pact (the Inter-American Defence Agreement), these sources said.

The draft, if approved by the French Government, would be submitted to the Permanent Western Union Military Committee for study with those of the other four members of the Union.

On the basis of the conclusions then reached, seven-power conversations, including the United States and Canada, could be held.—Reuter.

Artist Burns Own Works

Paris, November 6. M. Georges Rouault, 77, great mystic French painter of brilliantly coloured religious pictures, yesterday burned 315 of his own works.

The artist chose sketches and oil paintings to be destroyed himself and had them transported to a little factory at Montreuil-sous-Bois on the outskirts of Paris where they were burned in an incinerator. —United Press.

TREK OF DP'S CONTINUES

Geneva, November 6. Thirty thousand new refugees, mainly from Eastern Europe, entered displaced persons camps during the summer. The International Refugee Organisation announced today.

The refugees, mostly Poles, Yugoslavs, Hungarians, Czechs and Ukrainians, are living in camps in Germany, Austria and Italy until they are repatriated or resettled.

Another 50,000 refugees applied to the Organisation between April and September for assistance in finding new homes or returning to their countries of origin. —Reuter.

You Can Now See Magnetism

New York, November 6. Magnetism is made visible for the first time by a new light, New York University announced today.

Instead of the iron filings, with which students are familiar, to show the curved lines of magnetism, the new way shows them as blue rays of light.

The light is made by a tube that shoots out electrons. These are particles too small to be seen even with the greatest microscope.

The electrons line up just like the iron filings. They also emit the blue glow which traces the mysterious "lines of forces." —Associated Press.

Investigation Of French Strike?

Paris, November 6. A proposal that the World Federation of Trade Unions should invite a commission of miners' representatives from Britain, the United States, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland to investigate the month-old French coal strike has been made by the Communist-led Miners Federation.

The request, sent by the Miners Federation to the Communist-led General Confederation of Labour, for transmission to the WFTU, came as the Ministry of Industry announced that more than half the miners in France were back at work today.

The back-to-work movement gained ground in the Northern coalfield which is the most important one in France. Miners in Lorraine, who were working at full strength today, set up a new output record of 32,141 tons yesterday.

Strikers were, however, still holding up shipping at several ports. Dockers at Bordeaux voted unanimously to continue their strike until their claims were fully satisfied.

Troops At Work

Troops, helped by volunteer dockers, were unloading eight coal ships in the port, while cranes were operated by men of the French Navy. Only one ship, an Italian freighter, left Marseilles today, the eighth day of the seamen's strike in France's biggest port.

Troops continued handling fuel cargoes, the coal being unloaded straight into railway trucks because lorry drivers refused to move it.

The Prefect of Marseilles, addressing a protest meeting of several hundred passengers, stranded by the strike, announced earlier that military planes would be used to take people bound for North Africa across the Mediterranean.

Officials were today still awaiting final results of the strike ballot by the Communist-led Railwaysmen's Federation. The Federation has stated that ballots received so far showed 84 per cent in favour of a 24-hour strike for more pay and in support of the striking miners and dockers.

Red Arrested

Observers however thought that, with the non-Communist minority unions boycotting the ballot, not more than half of France's 840,000 railwaymen would support a stoppage.

Lorry drivers and other road transport workers in the Marseilles area stopped work today when they learned of the latest night of Marcel Biondi, secretary of the Marseilles Communist-led Road Transport Workers Union.

Biondi is charged with causing work stoppage among dock lorry drivers. —Reuter.

Republican Party To Get Going

Washington, November 6. Mr. Harold E. Stassen may be assigned the job of rebuilding the Republican Party for the 1952 Presidential campaign.

Influential Republicans, smarting from the smashing defeat suffered at the polls on Tuesday, are urging the youthful former Minnesota Governor to lead a movement to shape the party along more liberal lines.

These party liberals may meet with Mr. Stassen in Philadelphia within the next 15 days for a discussion of the party reconstruction.

Mr. Stassen, President of the University of Pennsylvania, told the United Press by telephone that he was not ready to make any statement.

"I think the situation calls for some reflection," he said. —United Press.

Dare-Devil Pilots Smuggling Arms

Paris, November 6. Further details of a secret arms airlift between Czechoslovakia and Israel by a man claiming to be a deserter from the Israeli Air Force, disclosed today, said the planes were flown by "dare-devil" pilots of many nationalities.

Two American newspaper correspondents said in despatches yesterday that they had delivered a signed statement by the deserter, unnamed because of the possibility of "reprisals," to Dr. Ralph Bunche, the acting United Nations Mediator for Palestine.

Today they quoted the deserter as saying that recruiting for the airlift was through discreet advertisements in European papers. The prospective recruit was put in touch with agents in New York, Paris, Rome and other cities and his military record checked.

Some of the recruits went to an airfield near Rome, others to Prague, the Northern headquarters of the supply line.

An address in Liechtenstein and a well-known hotel in Paris not far from the Champs Elysees were said to be links in the chain.

The ex-pilot reported that the main base for the supply line in Israel was Ramat David, which he alleged had underground hangars and planes under camouflage, including Flying Fortresses.

Daily cargo brought into Israel from Czechoslovakia was believed to average 25,000 pounds weight, the deserter said. He himself flew a two-engine C-46 Curtiss, carrying dismantled Messerschmitt fighter plane parts from Czechoslovakia.

Sweden was the most efficient of all air crews, though Americans predominated. Many of the ground crews were said to be Russians, he added. —Reuter.

Berlin, November 6.

The Bizonal Trade Union Council in Frankfurt decided today to call a one-day general strike throughout the British and American Zones of Germany to demand measures against rising prices.

The date for the strike will be fixed at a further meeting next week. The Council, comprising six leaders from the main areas of the Bizone, demanded that the authorities declare an economic emergency and proclaim a number of extraordinary measures to cope with it.

In particular, they demand the appointment of a Price Commissioner with extraordinary powers, an emergency law tightening price control and punishing extortionate prices and increased powers for the police in fighting illegal prices, hoarding and the black market.

Other demands are the creation of a special court procedure for punishing offences against the price laws, acceleration and extension of plans for the production of utility goods, stricter tax collection and heavy punishment for tax frauds.

They also insisted that rationing and collection, control in agriculture be fully maintained.

A 10-point "emergency programme" included further planned allocation of raw materials, fuel and credits, socialisation of basic industries and banks, and economic democracy to be achieved by the participation of the unions with equal rights in all organs of economic self-government.

British Anxiety

It concluded by demanding that laws passed by German State Parliaments on these lines but not promulgated owing to Military Government objections should be put into force.

The main pressure for the strike action during the three-day conference of union leaders seems to have come from the industrial areas of the British Zone, where price increases of necessities are even stiffer than in the South.

No steps have been taken to extend the action to the French Zone.

"Sabotage"

The official Soviet newspaper in Germany, the Tscheche-Runde, today accused the American authorities in Berlin of organising sabotage squads to disrupt the city's railway system.

A number of persons had recently been arrested after having committed sabotage along Berlin's electric elevated railway track by removing vital technical equipment, the newspaper alleged.

"Competent circles are convinced that these acts of sabotage which endanger the safety of passengers, are being organised by the American authorities," the paper said.

The border dividing the Soviet and Western Zones of Germany is lined with Russian Tommy gunners and armed people's police," according to the British-controlled German newspaper, Die Welt.

The newspaper, quoting travellers recently returned from Leipzig, in the Soviet Zone, said it was now virtually impossible to cross the frontier illegally. —Reuter.

MINERS' OFFER TURNED DOWN

Sydney, November 6. Mr. Joseph Chifley, the Prime Minister, and New South Wales Cabinet Minister, at a conference today rejected the State miners' offer to resume work if the coal industry tribunal were authorised to determine their dispute with the Tunnel Workers Union.

The ministers insisted that the miners must go back before arbitration machinery was set up. The strike, which threatens to paralyse industry and transport, was therefore unchanged by today's moves.

The dispute involves a number of tunnel workers who are not members of the Miners Federation. —Reuter.

WEST GERMANY RELATIONSHIP

The Military Governors of the three Western zones of Germany at their regular meeting in Frankfurt last week considered the drafts of the occupation statute defining the relationship between the Allied authorities and the constitutional German government which is due to be set up in the Western zones in the new year. The three Military Governors agreed on the desirability of referring certain points of drafting to their Governments before they take up the subject again later this month. This does not, however, mean that anything resembling a deadlock has arisen between the Military Governors.

The three Military Governors, at their meeting with the Ministers President of the 11 laender of the Western zones in Frankfurt on July 1 last, outlined the principles on which the occupation statute would be based. Thus in granting legislative, executive and judicial powers to the future German Government, the Military Governors will reserve to themselves such powers as are necessary to ensure fulfilment of the basic purpose of the occupation, namely, powers to conduct or direct for the time being Germany's foreign relations, to exercise minimum control over German foreign trade, to exercise controls in such matters as reparations, the level of industry, disarmament, demilitarisation and certain aspects of scientific research. The Military Governors will also resume the exercise of their full powers in an emergency threatening security and, if necessary, to secure compliance with the German constitution or the occupation statute.

War Against The Reds

No one can doubt that the policy of maximum production in Britain is being systematically thwarted by sections of labour which realise, as the Kremlin has long since realised, that prosperity is Communism's worst enemy. In one sense, the Communists deserve the limited measure of success their disruptive efforts have secured, for they have been assiduous in attendance at union branch meetings and conspicuously successful, thanks to the apathy of the general body of members, in obtaining key positions which give them an influence out of all proportion to their numbers. The British love of tolerance, a virtue in itself, can be carried too far when it gives licence to evil forces to work their will. Now Communism at home is to be fought by democratic methods whose effect is not in doubt if non-Communist unionists take the matter as seriously as the Communists have done. At the same time, and with equal justification, the TUC has given notice of severance from the World Federation of Trade Unions if that body continues its Communist course. These are hopeful signs.

CRUSADE IN EUROPE

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's
Own Story Of The War
In Europe

The House of Representatives, the Congress passed the Selective Service Extension Act, permitting the movement of all Army components overseas and extending the term of service. The congressional action can be attributed largely to the personal intervention of General George C. Marshall, who had already attained a public stature that gave weight to his urgent warning. But even he could not entirely overcome the conviction that an all-out effort for defence was unnecessary. Limitations on service, such as the release of men of the age of twenty-eight, reflected a continuing belief that there was no immediate danger.

Thus for two years, as war engulfed the world outside the Americas and the Axis drove relentlessly toward military domination of the globe, each increase in the size, efficiency, and appropriations of the armed services was the result of a corresponding decrease in the complacency of the American people. But their hesitation to abandon compromise for decisive action could not be wholly dispelled until Pearl Harbor converted the issue into a struggle for survival.

Thereafter, in the space of three and a half years, the United States produced the fighting machine that played an indispensable role in beating Germany to its knees, even while our country, almost single-handed, was conducting an effective war against the Japanese Empire. The revolutionary transformation of America was not achieved overnight; the fact that it was ever achieved at all was due to the existence of staunch allies and our own distance from the scene of combat. At the outset none of us could foresee the end of the struggle; few of us saw eye to eye on what was demanded of us as individuals and as a nation, but each began step by step to learn and to perform his allotted task.

America's transformation, in three years, from a situation of appalling danger to unparalleled might in battle was one of the two miracles that brought Jodl to our headquarters to surrender on May 7, 1945. The other was the development, over the same period, of near-perfection in allied conduct of war operations. History testifies to the ineptitude of coalitions in waging war. Allied failures have been as numerous and their consequences as common that professional soldiers had long discounted the possibility of effective allied action unless available resources were so great as to assure victory by inundation. Even Napoleon's reputation as a brilliant military leader, when students in staff colleges came to realize that he always fought against coalitions—and therefore against divided counsels and diverse political, economic, and military interests.

Primarily the Allied task was to utilise the resources of two great nations with the effectiveness of a single authority. There was no precedent to follow, no chart by which to steer. Where nations previously had acted effectively in concert against a common foe, one member of the coalition had usually been so strong as to be the dominating partner. Now it was necessary to produce effective unity out of concessions voluntarily made. The true history of the war, and more especially the history of the operations Torch and Overlord, in the Mediterranean and northwest Europe, is the story of a unity produced on the basis of this voluntary co-operation. Differences there were, differences among strong men representing strong and proud peoples, but these paled into insignificance alongside the miracle of achievement represented in the shoulder-to-shoulder march of the Allies to complete victory in the West.

On the day the war began, in 1939, I was in the Philippines, nearing completion of four years' duty as senior military assistant to General Douglas MacArthur, who had been charged with building and training an independent Filipino military establishment. Local interest in the war was heightened by outbreaks in Manila clubs of arguments and fist fights among members of foreign consulates—Hitler was a despised villain to most but a hero to a small though vicious element. Hirohito was rarely if ever mentioned; all attention centred on the next move of the Nazi dictator.

The news of the invasion of Poland reached us and we heard that the Prime Minister of Great Britain was to make a radio address. With my friend, Colonel Howard Smith, I listened to the declaration that Britain and Germany were again at war. It was a solemn moment, particularly for me because I was convinced that the United States would soon find it impossible to retain a position of neutrality. I was certain that the United States would be drawn into the whirlpool of the war, but I was mistaken as to the manner of our entry. I assumed that Japan would make no move against us until after we were committed to the European war. Moreover, I was wrong as to time. It seemed to me that we would be compelled to defend ourselves against the Axis within a year of the war's outbreak.

From 1931, toward a number of senior officers of the Army had frequently expressed to me their conviction that the world was heading straight toward another global war. I shared these views. It seemed clear that every action of the dictators in Japan, Germany, and Italy pointed to their determination to seize whatever territories they might happen to want, and that these ambitions would early force democratic nations into conflict. Many believed, however, that in pushing England and France to war Hitler had at last miscalculated.

The Stilwell Papers

[The story of General Stilwell's return to the United States is told in Mrs. Stilwell's words in the following narrative.]

General Marshall's office informed me of General Stilwell's impending return to the United States. Knowing from letters that my husband did not expect to remain in China much longer, I realised that this news meant that his service in the China-Burma-India theatre was at an end. Arrangements were made for me to travel east in order to meet General Stilwell on his arrival in Washington.

I reached Washington on November first in General Bonebrake's plane and stayed at the Officers' Club at Fort Myer. The next day I was taken to the field in great secrecy, and at the expected hour—3.00 p.m.—"Uncle Joe's Charlie" arrived. General Stilwell jumped off at once and came over to me, hugged me, and then we entered the car. We looked back and were surprised to see the entire crew lined up by the plane, and later we learned that they were being given instructions on how to conduct themselves. There were to be "no discussions whatever of the China situation."

We went to the Officers' Club by car, and I had a few moments in which to look Joe over. The expression in his eyes was easy to read and he was thin and weary. We got out of the car and were amazed to find another car also stopping behind ours, as we went on to our apartment, and we took a steep backward walk to the small room of the General Handy and General Surles. They followed us very closely, right into our living room. General Stilwell looked at me and said, "I believe someone wants to have a few words with me." I took the hint and walked into the hallway where I remained until the talk was finished. General Surles and Handy were telling him that the situation was "dynamite" and he was to say nothing to anyone, nor was he to see anyone. That night at dinner, in the small room of the club, we had General Stilwell's aides, Major Carl Arnold and Major Richard Young, with us. We were finishing dinner when a young man walked up and joined us without an invitation. He said a hello to Joe. "When are you leaving Washington, General?" "What do you mean?" said Joe. "Just that—when are you leaving?" "That means I'm not wanted here—is that right?"

The young man, Colonel Frank McCarthy, acknowledged us much and Joe said: "Well, I'm not leaving Washington until I talk with General Marshall."

"I'm sorry," said Colonel McCarthy, "General Marshall is leaving Washington tonight and won't be back for several days."

"I know," said Joe, "but I shall leave until I see him. And by the way," he added, "do you have a cell ready for me at Leavenworth?" Colonel McCarthy reddened, got up, and excused himself. We sat talking for a moment and Joe made a few remarks about fresh young men, which I won't repeat, and we went back to our apartment. Shortly, General Marshall, who lived around the corner, arrived at the apartment and again I took a walk—this time for over an hour. It was the same story: "Not a word—this is dynamite." Joe was already sick and tired of the entire proceedings and the atmosphere of crime. He was more than ready to start for Carmel.

We left by plane the following day, planning to break the trip at Dallas. Landing at Love Field, we were met by Colonel Higgins, who felt very troubled and that there were no pleasant accommodations for us at the field. Since we had wired ahead for rooms in a Dallas hotel, we did not share his anxiety. However, we were shocked to learn that Colonel Higgins had received direct orders from Washington that one from the plane was to leave

Love Field. Exhausted, mentally and physically, we accepted the orders with as much grace as possible and I was given a room with the WASPS. The girls were very understanding and hospitable. General Stilwell and the crew of the plane were quartered in transient barracks, with an MP guard at the door, to make sure that no one interviewed him. The next morning we had a very late start, due to bad weather, but eventually we reached Carmel. As we flew over the Salinas valley with its beautiful fields and air of peace, General Stilwell began to hum. He was nearing home. We chatted a bit so that he could look down on his home—the place he loved most in the world—and he leaned back and sighed. Could he rest, I wondered, with his mind and heart so full?

We landed at Del Monte Air Field on Monday, November sixth, at noon. It was a beautiful day for a homecoming. Our three daughters were there to meet us, and as their father stepped down from the plane I could see their expressions of shock and dismay at his gaunt, weary, and heartbroken appearance. After days of seclusion and with the consent of the War Department, he received the press and photographers at our Carmel home. This was his first press interview since the recall. No word concerning China was spoken. This book is, in a sense, his first public report.

MOLOTOV ATTACK ON THE WESTERN POWERS

Britain And U.S. Trying For "Imperialist Peace"

"DOMINATION OF WORLD"

Moscow, November 7.

The Soviet Foreign Minister, V. M. Molotov, today called for the speediest elaboration of peace treaties with Japan and Germany.

In the principal address marking the start of the celebration of the 31st anniversary of the Soviet Revolution, Molotov said that "ruling circles" of Britain and the US are trying to break wartime agreements with Russia and make an "imperialist peace."

"They seem to think that since the war the danger has passed them," he said, "so they can ignore all the old agreements with the Soviet Union and take no account of its existence."

M. Molotov said: "Daily the successes of the Soviet people in the building of Communism are increasing. The economic might of the Soviet Union is growing. The friendship of the peoples of the Soviet Union is growing."

"Since the Second World War, countries such as Poland, Rumania, Bulgaria, Albania, Yugoslavia and Hungary have fallen away from capitalism."

"The freedom movement among the colonial peoples is growing and despite everything the movement for freedom is growing. The international prestige of the Soviet Union is growing as a bulwark of peace and democracy," he said.

"Under the banner of Lenin and Stalin, our people are going forward confident in their future."

Stalin Policy

M. Molotov then quoted Marshal Stalin's statement that after the war the Soviet Union would consolidate its economic policy. "Now we all see that the Soviet Union is carrying out Marshal Stalin's peaceful programme," he said.

"If the first year of the five-year plan was not fully carried out on account of the circumstances arising out of the war and owing to drought in the second, the situation has improved."

"In 1947 our industry not only fulfilled its plan but at the end of that year our industries reached the 1940 level of production," he said.

A wide programme for improving the standard of living of the working classes was going on in the USSR.

"We must not forget that several light and heavy branches of industry have not yet reached their previous levels. The countries of the peoples' democracies are also consolidating their economic position."

American Dollars

"In the Western countries, however, the situation is quite different. The United States has not yet reached pre-war production levels in spite of the huge orders received during the war. The wages of American workers are lagging behind prices which indicate a deterioration of their standards of living."

M. Molotov claimed that although official figures put the number of unemployed in the United States at two million, there were three times as many as that, not counting those partially employed.

"Everything in Europe is based on the influx of American credits for Europe's rehabilitation."

"American dollars do not, however, raise the level of industry in Europe. The cannot because they are only meant to ensure the sale of American goods in Europe. The furthering of the aggressive aims of American monopolies does not serve Europe's welfare."

M. Molotov continued: "The harvest has been brought in successfully in all regions of the Soviet Union and there will be more bread this year than last year."

"Invincible Army"

"After the 30th anniversary, financial reform was the outstanding event in the Soviet economy."

Speaking of Soviet industry and transport, M. Molotov said new technical methods and co-ordination were important. "The speeding up of mechanisation in all the economic fields is of the greatest concern to the Party."

M. Molotov turned to questions of international policy, saying: "We are a great multinational Union, and we have a strong and imperishable."

M. Molotov recalled the words of Stalin four years ago that "to win a war is not to win peace. One must make impossible the resurgence of aggression—if not for always, then for a long time to come."

Referring to Yalta and Potsdam, he said: "One must not forget that these international agreements were won at the cost of the blood of our peoples. Since then the Soviet Union has insisted and continues to insist that these obligations be fulfilled."

M. Molotov considered nevertheless that these international agreements had been to some extent fulfilled. He added: "The United Nations is working despite the various hitches, which occur."

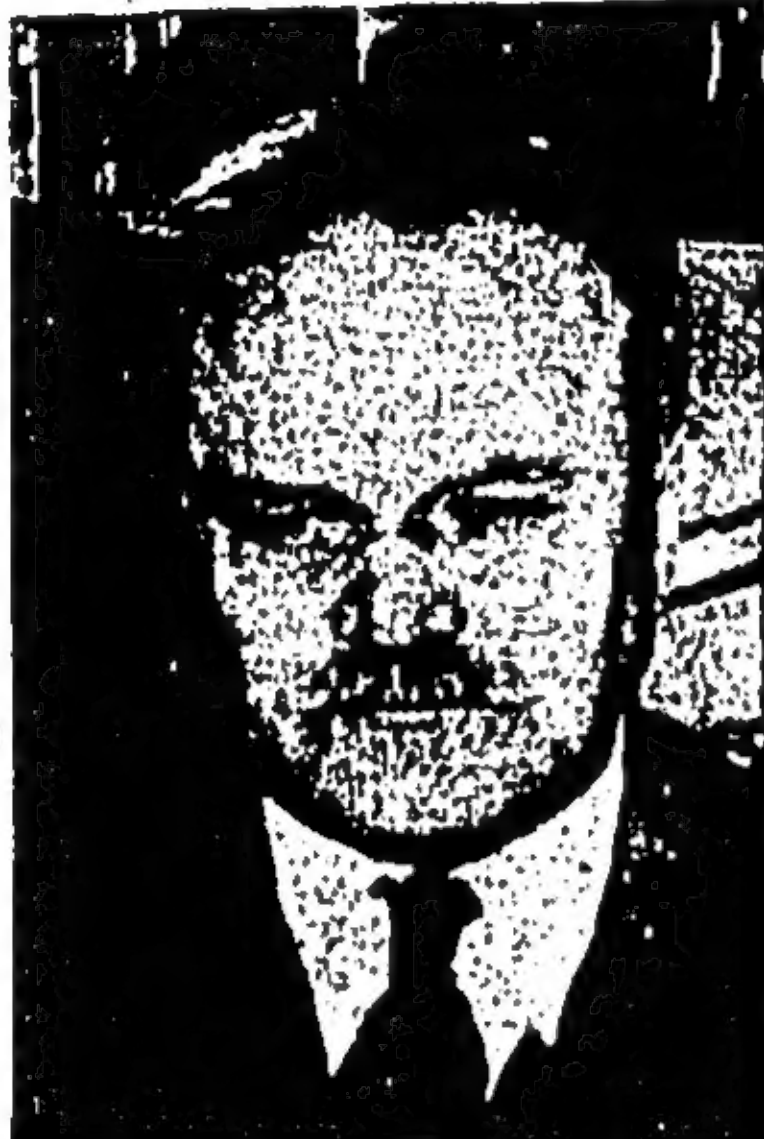

"War Propaganda"

M. Molotov complained that Nazi leaders were returning to their old positions in the three Western Zones of Germany. "The Soviet Union regards this as quite impermissible."

He insisted on the demilitarisation and democratisation of both Germany and Japan and declared: "The Ruhr should be under international control."

M. Molotov next examined the other aspect of the post-war policy problem—that of the regulation of armaments in view of the new style of aggression and of propaganda for a new war."

"There are many people in many States who support the Soviet Union's demand for the destruction of atomic weapons—and it cannot be doubted that the overwhelming majority in most countries are for the destruction of atomic bombs although this is not reflected in the General Assembly of the United Nations."

"Leading the struggle for the destruction of criminal atomic weapons, the Soviet Union stands at the head of all peace-loving peoples throughout the world."

Anglo-US Attitude

M. Molotov complained that the attitude of the United States and Britain had altered considerably since the war. They consider that today the field has been cleared for their domination over the entire world, although they do not say so openly.

"The Soviet Union is solidly against attempts at aggression and war incitement. That is why the Berlin question remains unsolved."

M. Molotov continued: "There has been a great deal of clamour recently about Western Union, the Atlantic Union and Mediterranean blocs, although no one is threatening the countries who shut about this."

"This is part and parcel of the plans of the war aggressors. The great forces which stand against war are great enough to finish with Churchill and his sort."

"What Comrade Stalin said recently to a Pravda correspondent should show the way for the peace-loving peoples to crush all

The Soviet's "Desire For Peace"

Moscow, November 6. Soviet newspapers today stressed Russia's desire for peace on the eve of celebrations marking the anniversary of the 1917 Revolution. The Communist Party organ, Pravda, declared: "The people do not want war. They long for peace and want peace and they are fully decided to shackle the warmongers."

The official Government paper, Izvestia, said: "The Soviet people needs peace to realise Premier Stalin's majestic programme. Guarding our peaceful labour are the Armed Forces of the Soviet Union covered with everlasting glory by their numerous fights against the enemies of the Soviet State."—Reuter.

Yen Hsi-Shan Has Formula For North

Peiping, November 7.

General Yen Hsi-shan, governor of Shansi, thinks that North China can be saved.

But only if General MacArthur sends 10,000 Japs to this area to fight the Reds—and if the Flying Tigers are revived under General Claire Chennault with 200 planes, mainly bombers, manned by Americans.

Yen told Captain Raymond Bowes, CNAC pilot, that recovery of Manchuria would cost US$50,000,000, but did not go into details.

Yen said he needed 5,000 tons of food and 1,000 tons of ammunition monthly and claimed to have only 40 days food supply for his troops in Shansi.

Yen said he had asked Nanking for 18 regiments and had been promised nine.

Since the Reds began their present drive against Taiyuan, the anti-Soviet intrigues which are going on.

M. Molotov noted the electoral history of the Democratic Party and President Truman.

Growing Power

He added: "The failure of the Republican Party and Governor Dewey, who came to the elections with an openly reactionary and most aggressive programme, shows that the majority of the American people reject that programme."

M. Molotov said: The Nationalist group in Yugoslavia has done great harm to its people but it should not be doubted that the Yugoslav Party will prove capable of bringing its people back into the progressive and peace-loving camp."

M. Molotov concluded, saying that from year to year Soviet power is growing. Russia is carrying on a policy independently of all foreign influence and a policy aiming at assuring security for the Soviet Union.

M. Molotov spoke for just over an hour and a half. The meeting then approved a message of greetings to Marshal Stalin, saying: "While he carries out their work of peaceful construction, the peoples of the Soviet Union are vigilantly watching the machinations of international imperialist reaction which is striving to loose a new bloody war on mankind."

"The best and most hopeful assurance of peace consists in the further strengthening of our country's might."—Reuter.

"Harry Truman Day" In Florida Town

Key West, Florida, November 6.

Sunday will be "Harry S. Truman Day" in Key West and its citizens are ready to give the President a roaring welcome.

Flags and banners and bunting are going up—and coconuts are coming down.

Nobody wants a tricky breeze to bounce a coconut off an unsuspecting head so all the palm trees around the "Little White House" at Boca Chica naval air station are being stripped.

The Chamber of Commerce and city fathers have been busy with arrangements for a hero's welcome. The music is ready and cheering throngs were assured. It will be the President's 14th visit to Key West but this time it will be different. He is a President in his own right not the Vice-Presidential successor to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He will arrive by plane at the air station and motor through the city.

On his way here from Washington, the Chief Executive and his family will stop in New Bern, North Carolina for services in the First Baptist Church there.

Pastor Surprised

President Truman's announcement that he would worship at the "Little New Bern church came as a surprise to almost everyone, including the the young pastor who invited him.

Reverend Thomas W. Fryer offered a casual invitation when he visited the President while on route to Europe two months ago.

"I told the President when I talked to him that we had no great cathedral and no splendour about our church," Fryer said, "I told him we had a good, small church with fine people and that we would like to have him come down and worship with us some time."—Associated Press.

The Soviet Becoming Stronger

Prague, November 6.

The Soviet Ambassador in Prague, Mr. A. Silin, declared tonight that Russia was strengthening her military and economic power.

He was addressing a rally celebrating tomorrow's anniversary of Russia's October Revolution.

"The success of the Soviet nations since the war strengthens the military power of Socialism and guarantees the prosperous development of people's democracy in states friendly to the Soviet Union," Mr. Silin declared.

The Czechoslovak Premier, speaking at the same rally, said that his country would follow the lead of the Bolshevik Party along the road to socialism. Only a new war could put an end to the developments made possible by the Red Army's fight for liberation, he said.—Reuter.

WAGES INCREASED FOR FIFTH TIME IN YEAR

Sydney, November 7.

Australia's rising prices have forced the basic wage up for the fifth time in a year.
The basic wage for men in Sydney now has increased to the equivalent of $19.93 above the November, 1947 level.

The basic wage for women rose to $10.78 from $9.72 in November, 1947. Corresponding increases were made in other cities.
The basic wage is the minimum that can be paid to an adult worker. Margins are added to it for skill. Government records show the cost of living in Sydney has risen 43.1 per cent since 1939.
Clothing is up 115.3 per cent, flour 37.5 per cent, rent eight per cent, and miscellaneous items such as tobacco 30.2 per cent.
Basic wage rises are likely to send prices even higher, men in the grocery and clothing trades say. Employers, they say, will be unable to meet increases in the basic wage without seeking higher prices.

"Wages go up, production costs follow, then prices must rise a corresponding amount," said Secretary E. M. Upton of the Clothing Manufacturers Association.

Price Warning

Professor Douglas B. Copland, an Australian economist, warns against rising prices in his new book, "Back to Work in Economics, Australia, 1948." Copland is Vice-Chancellor of the National University and former Economic Adviser to the Commonwealth Government.

He says Australia's economy has been inflated to a position which would not be bearable if export prices fell.
But the most disturbing feature of Australia's economy, he says, is the failure of production to respond to high demands.

He says that primary industry, handicapped by labour and material shortages, has an output not much above before the war, that new big increase has taken place in secondary industry production. That output of basic materials is only slightly above pre-war figures.—Associated Press.

Kitty Hawk On The High Seas

London, November 6.

The Wright Brothers' famous plane Kitty Hawk was off for home today aboard the liner Mauretania.

The plane, with which the American pioneer aviators made the historic flight of December 17, 1903, at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, will be back in the United States in time for display on the 45th anniversary of that event.
It will be preserved in the National Air Museum at Washington.

Taking its place in London's Science Museum is an exact replica, except for the dummy engine made by students of the Dr.
Havilland Technical School.
Museum officials said this is already attracting crowds.

A dispute between the Wright Brothers and American authorities caused them to send the Kitty
Hawk to Britain 20 years ago.
When Orville Wright died last January, he left directions that the plane be returned to America.

CONFESSED TO TWO MURDERS

Fayetteville, Arkansas,
November 6.

A university student found dead here left a note confessing that he had committed "two double murders" at Texarkana in 1946.

The student, 17-year-old H. B.
Tennison, was found dead in his room yesterday, and Sheriff Brude Childer said the youth had taken poison.—Reuter.

Recall Of Pensioned Soldiers

London, November 7.

The British Government introduced yesterday a bill to make Army and Air Force pensioners, liable to be recalled (as are Naval pensioners) in an emergency. The bill applies to those under 60 whose service pensions have been granted since the beginning of the war.
They will be offered the choice between pensions at the old rate with no liability to recall, and the new rates fixed after the end of the war with the liability. The numbers concerned are about 16,000 now but will automatically increase until every regular soldier and airman is affected.

SPANISH REDS EXECUTED

Madrid, November 6.

Two men, convicted of being leaders of a clandestine Communist Party in the province of Galicia and of being responsible for the murders of 54 people, were shot in Corunna today.
The men, Jose Gomez Guyoso and Antonio Segura, were sentenced to death by a court marshal at Corunna on October 18.
During the trial it was claimed that Segura was formerly an employee of the Buenos Aires newspaper, La Prensa.
The Argentine Consul at Corunna attended the hearing.

JUDGE'S REFUSAL TO WITHDRAW

New York, November 6.

The Federal Judge has refused to withdraw from the trial of the 12 leading Communists who have alleged he is biased.

Counsel for the defendants, who are charged with having advocated the overthrow of the Government by force and violence, alleged that Judge Harold Medina showed prejudice on August 16 when the preliminary motions were being argued. They asked him, yesterday, to withdraw from the case.

Refusing the request Medina said: "Had I been conscious of any personal bias or prejudice against the defendants, I would have disqualified myself when the case first came before me."
The remarks upon which the defendants' request was based were made by the Judge in discussing the postponement of the trial.
He said he did not think the trial should be delayed indefinitely when perhaps there might be some more of these fellows up to that sort of thing.
Later, when the defence counsel argued that the indict-

Greece Preparing To Utilise Poison Gas

Paris, November 6.

Russia declared in the United Nations today that Greece, with the knowledge of the United States and Britain, is considering the use of poison gas against guerrillas.

Andrei Y. Vyshinsky of the Soviet Union told the 58-nation political committee that Greece was out to destroy the Greek Partisans "by any means including toxic gases."

He said the Greek delegate, Pannoytis Pipinellis, had shown
"he was well acquainted with toxic gases. This is no accident."

In the committee's morning session, a Soviet bloc delegate, Julius Katz-Suchy of Poland, sought to ridicule the post-election position of John Foster Dulles in the American delegation.

With sarcasm, Katz-Suchy said that Dulles, who might have been Secretary of State in a Republican Administration, had become more bi-Partisan since the Democratic election victory last Tuesday.
In the afternoon Vyshinsky first lashed out at the British chief delegate, Hector McNell.

"A Mockery," Vyshinsky said McNell displayed a "strategic love" for Greece.
Pursuing his charge that Greece was considering the use of poison gas against guerrillas, Vyshinsky cried:

"Does not this sound like a mockery of Democracy?"

Vyshinsky told the committee that McNell had said he loved Greece.
Vyshinsky at one time turned to Britain's seat, occupied by Valentine G. Lawford. Lawford was grinning. "I see my neighbour likes this," said Vyshinsky.
McNeill was not in the committee room.

Vyshinsky called Britain's attitude toward Greece a "bizarre love."

"Selling Out For Pork"
He said that Paul Porter, former special representative of President Truman in Greece, had written a "most interesting article in Colliers Magazine" exposing "the substance of the remarkable relations between Britain and Greece."

He said Porter wrote that Britain exhibited the ruling groups and suppressed the masses. He said that Porter declared that a small banking and commercial elite were prepared to "sell their country for a basket of pork."

The British policy, said Vysh-insky, was:
"I love you like my soul but I shake you like an apple tree."—

Ship Sunk In Storm Off Leyte

Manila, November 7.

Strong waves lashed and sank a 701-ton coastal vessel in the Central Philippines on November 5, but all hands were reported safe near Leyte.

The captain, I. Flores, skipper of the SS Consuelo, notified the ships' owners in Manila that he encountered heavy seas off Panos Island, South of Leyte. Efforts to pump out water rushing into the holds proved futile and Consuelo's engines stopped.

The inter-island trader drifted until it was smashed by waves.
Flores said that crew members were safe in the village of San Ricardo on Panos. Consuelo belonged to Gregorio Arana Shipping Company. It was en route to Manila from Leyte with a cargo of lumber and logs.—Associated Press.

CALL FOR AID TO NANKING

Des Moines, November 6.

Representative Walter H.
Judd today called for additional aid to China as a means of preventing more trouble with Russia.

The Congressman from Minnesota said that Asia has great natural resources and the best hope of preventing war with Russia is "trying to keep China in the ring."

"It is not because we don't care about Europe that we say give attention to Asia. It is because we do care about Europe."
Mr. Judd said that historians will decide that World War II was a struggle to settle which nation was to develop Asia.—

ARAB STATES TOLD POSITION HOPELESS

Paris, November 7.

Four Arab governments have been advised that their position in Palestine is hopeless and that they had better make peace.Brigadier General William E. Riley of the US Marines, who is chief of staff of the UN truce-mission in Palestine, "minced no words" in a three hour conference with Syrian, Egyptian, Lebanese and Iraq representatives.

No Naval Show Over Disputed Regions

London, November 6.

The British and Argentine Foreign Ministers have agreed that there shall be no naval demonstration by the two powers in the disputed Antarctic regions this winter.Last year, good relations between the two countries were threatened by naval activities around the Antarctic islands claimed by Britain, Argentina and Chile. British naval units patrolled the area after Argentina and Chilean naval expeditions renewed their countries' claims in the region.The Antarctic dispute was discussed by the Foreign Secretary, Ernest Bevin, and Dr. Juan Bramuglia, Argentine Foreign Minister, at a meeting in London yesterday afternoon.Mr. Bevin welcomed the United States proposal for discussions aimed at an international settlement of claims in the Antarctic and "considered it formed a possible basis for a friendly settlement of the whole question."Bramuglia could not accept the American proposal "until prior consultation with all the interested parties."—Associated Press.

In Complete Control

Riley was reported to have told the Arabs that as a military man he believes the time has come for the Palestine truce of last July to be replaced by some more suitable basis for peace.The Jews, he pointed out, are in complete military control of Palestine.He was said to have advised the Arabs that it will be difficult if not impossible for the mediator to administer the truce much longer.

Seven Killed In Shooting Drama

Chester, Pennsylvania, November 6.

Six negroes and a white man were killed and six other persons injured here today by a negro gunman who was found dead when the police stormed the second floor where he had barricaded himself.The man appeared to have put the muzzle of his small-calibre rifle in his mouth and pulled the trigger as the police closed in after pouring a stream of machine gun andrifle fire and tear gas into the room, Police Chief Andrew J.
Desmond said.The battle took place in a largely negro district of this South Eastern Pennsylvania city of 60,000 people. Mr. Desmond said a detective of the vice squad was walking through a largely negro district when a shot was fired at him from a second storey window.The detective returned the fire. In a furious exchange of shots, the detective was killed.A white man who went to the aid of the detective was fatally wounded. The gunman then turned rifle fire on the gathering crowd and sniped at people peeking from their homes.The entire city police force was mobilised at the scene. Reinforced by State police, constables forced their way into the negro's room.The owner of a restaurant in the building where the gunman died said he rented a room a week ago to a negro in the name of Collins.—Reuter.

US Setting Up Bases In Spain?

Paris, November 7.

The Polish delegate, Mr.
Julius Katsuchy, today alleged before the United Nations Political Committee that the United States is establishing military bases in Spain."We all know the United States is trying to build an empire reaching far beyond its borders. It is using what Senator Taft calls
"dollar diplomacy.""We know bases are being established in the United Kingdom, Spain, North Africa and the Pacific. We know how the United States, despite protests, has refused to evacuate Greenland," he said.He quoted President Truman to support Communist charges that the United States was not an unselfish as it pretends. The Polish delegate also repeatedly attacked
Mr. John Foster Dulles.Mr. Katsuchy quoted Mr.
Truman as saying the United States does not want territory or profit or selfish advance out of this war but the United States must have to have bases which military experts deemed essential for America's protection."That statement shows first of all that those interests of the United States are not unselfish as its delegates here try to tell us," he said.He said Mr. Dulles does not like Communists but that he likes Fascists."Mr. Dulles does not like Russia but he likes Spain," Mr. Dulles participates in the organ of a Fascist movement called "X," and which is said to be financed by the American Treasury," said Mr. Katsuchy.Apparently, he referred to "Xites" which is a Greek political group which favours the monarchy.—United Press.

Soviet Fears War Says Einstein

Tokyo, November 6.

Dr. Albert Einstein believes there will be no war in the near future because "Russia fears war and the American people do not want war."This is according to an interview with the famed scientist published in the Mainichi today.The interview was obtained in Princeton, New Jersey, by Mainichi foreign editor, Ichitaro Takata, who is now visiting the United States.Takata said Einstein told him
"The American people are very hostile to Soviet Russia but I do not believe America will ever attack any country unless she is first attacked by that country."Asked if he believes Russia has the atomic bomb, Dr. Einstein said "who knows?" They may have, but if I think they may not be so effective as the American bombs."Einstein said the two most important things in the world today are "to have an international arrangement to feed people in all countries of the world, and not to have too many people.""It is necessary to educate people not to have too many children,"—United Press.

ARMY BEAT AIRMEN
BY THE ODD GOAL

Yesterday's First Division soccer failed to produce any surprises.

At Sookunpoo, a cleanly contested game between Army and RAF ended in a win for the soldiers, who beat the Airmen by two goals to one.

South China "A" successfully defended their unbeaten record against Royal Navy, whom they beat by three clear goals at Caroline Hill.

At Boundary Street, Chinese A.A. beat Kit Chee by two goals to one.

The Army dominated play in the first half, but the visitors dictated in the second.

The Army were the better trained side and soon tested the visitors' defence.

Tai Kam-ho again netted for South China.

Twelve minutes after the restart, the Chinese centre forward swung the ball to the right when intercepted by a Navy defender.

The ball went to Lai Shu-wing, who deliberately side-stopped to enable Ho Yin-tung to dash up and net with a fast ground shot, the ball entering by the side of the upright.

Ho twisted his ankle and had to leave the field, taking no further part in the game.

Lo Wah-sing, the outstanding player on the field, scored both goals for CAA. Kit Chee's only goal was gained by Lee Ping-chiu.

Five minutes after the start, a penalty kick awarded to Kit Chee was saved by Yu Kuei-yun.

The result corner kick also failed. CAA drew first blood after 30 minutes when Lo received the ball from the right and tapped it into the goal.

At half time, CAA led by one goal to nil.

Lo scored the equaliser five minutes after half time.

The ball was crossed between CAA's backs with three Kit Chee players in hot pursuit.

In the resulting skirmish, the ball was flicked from head to head and Lee drop-kicked in level the score.

Team Of The Year
After A Record

London, November 6.

Derby County, the team of the year, brought their great unbeaten run to 16 games since the start of the season by a 2-0 win over Middlesbrough.

They now need to survive one more match to equal the achievement of Arsenal last season, when Derby themselves ended the Highbury club's sequence at the 18th hurdle.

Derby's victory today puts them three clear points in front of the faltering Portsmouth, who went unbeaten 3-1 in a rousing game at Liverpool.

Portsmouth have taken only one point from their last three matches, and may soon drop below Newcastle, who have won their last four matches, and the champions, Arsenal, who have gained nine points in their last five engagements.

The stage is set for a terrific battle at Newcastle next Saturday when Derby are the visitors.

Newcastle's hero, in a great success at Blackpool was Stobart, the centre forward, who in on the transfer list, brought in to the side at outside right, he scored two decisive second half goals, at a time when Blackpool, despite the presence of the England forwards, Matthews and Mortensen, were overplayed.

Mortensen, returning after an injury, scored from a penalty.

Chelsea's First Flanery, of Preston, another of the forwards upon whom England will rely against Wales next Wednesday, started slowly in his "try out" game on Sheffield United's ground, but improved as play progressed and seemed perfectly fit.

Nevertheless, the United, fielding their new players Crook, from Sheffield Wednesday, and Blakeman, from Brentford, gained their first victory since the opening day of the season and handed over the First Division "wooden spoon" to Everton.

Chelsea gained their first away victory in an incident-crammed clash at Huddersfield. The experiment of playing Williams at inside left, in place of Tommy Walker, who goes to his old club Hearts next month as assistant manager and player, proved successful for Williams was Chelsea's star forward, and they succeeded by 4-3, despite two penalty goals by Peter Doherty.

Whittaker, Huddersfield new half back from Charlton, was unlucky enough to put through his own goal for the decisive score close on time.

Rangers upset West Bromwich in a Queen's Park Rangers' unbeaten home record, and took a two-point lead over Tottenham, who went under 3-1 at Southampton, from where only one side had returned with a point this season.

Southampton's victory must have been particularly sweet for it improved their own promotion prospects and avenged a 1-0 home defeat in the sixth round of the Cup last season.

At the foot of the Second Division, Lincoln, newly promoted from Third Division, Northern suffered a crushing 7-1 setback at Blackburn, their fourth successive defeat.

Cardiff's losing run also expanded to four, their last defeat being a 1-0 defeat by Wolves.

CANADIANS NOSE OUT
SOFTBALL CHAMPIONS

(By "GRANDSTAND")

Saints failed again yesterday, as the Canucks nosed out the Softball champions of last season 9-8 in an eight-inning chaff with no holds barred. The Canuckettes overwhelmed the Pirates 13-2 behind Alice Mar's one-hit mound performance.
